B. Gettysburg Recap

1. Adam Emrick gave an overview of the Living Legacy Project, that he would like to implement in Horry County. He stated that the program consisted of trees being planted in honor of fallen soldiers. The trees would be geotagged with information that was collected about each soldier including family members, occupation, etc. Ben Burroughs informed the board that a list is currently being compiled by Ms. Ruth Sproles whom Adam agreed to get in contact with.
2. Adam Emrick gave an overview of the program “Of the Student, By the Student, For the Student”, as a program to be implemented in Horry County. Students are guided through every aspect of creating historic educational videos. Bill Strydesky suggested that the concept be further explored to access a model. Joel Carter recommended that the project coincide with the schools curriculum.

- C. Work on the 1988 Historic Resource Survey was presented by intern, Emily Kragel. She spoke of 185 places that have been placed on the map with pictures and descriptions. Adam Emrick stated that her work has added a new layer to the GIS database.
- D. Work on the Historic Video Series was presented by intern, Alyssa Greenhouse. She showed the board two of the videos that have been completed including the Socastee Swing Bridge. Joel Carter suggested that Ms. Greenhouse contact Herbert Riley as a research tool.
- E. Work on the Gullah Geechee Corridor Partnership was presented by interns, Quinn Holmquist and Zach Fowler. The interns spoke of their work in researching people and places involved with the Gullah Geechee culture. The interns stated that they currently have 90 places to research and are working on obtaining funding for the final booklet. Joel Carter suggested visiting churches and the Horry County Council on Aging for contacts.
- F. Adam Emrick showed the board a Coloring Book example page. The group agreed to revisit the Coloring Book at the next meeting.
